Major General, MONG
The Adjutant General

Dear Governor Nixon,

I am pleased to present to you the 2013 Missouri National Guard Annual Report on behalf of the state's 11,500 Citizen-Soldiers and Airmen. As you began your second term as our commander in chief, the Missouri National Guard continued to thrive under your leadership. This year, your Missouri National Guard continued to deploy Soldiers and Airmen overseas to support contingency operations in Afghanistan and around the world. At home, the Missouri National Guard mobilized for three state emergencies and Vigilant Guard 2013, one of the largest exercises in Missouri's history.

The Missouri National Guard continues to play a key role in Afghanistan. Our Soldiers and Airmen have performed admirably filling security, engineer, transportation, aviation and other missions as assigned. Early in the fiscal year, we brought the last Soldiers and Airmen of our Agribusiness Development Team home. Even as they returned, others remained. The 1138th Engineer Company (Sapper) performed critical route clearance missions throughout Afghanistan. The 35th Combat Aviation Brigade and its subordinate units provided theater aviation assets throughout the area of operations.

At home, the Missouri National Guard continued to protect good people from bad things. We began the fiscal year with the Vigilant Guard exercise, one of the largest exercises in Guard history which drew participants from every senior command. In April, approximately 120 Soldiers and Airmen mobilized to help communities along the Mississippi River as they faced flood threat. In August, more than 70 military police and engineers mobilized to assist our neighbors with their flood mission. Our 131st Bomb Wing made National Guard and Air Force history by successfully passing its initial nuclear surety inspection and achieving full operational capability in August.

As we continue to meet our state and federal mission, our Family and Warrior Support programs continue to support our Guardsmen and their Families. The resources housed at the Patriot Center ensure our Guardsmen have access to programs aimed at bolstering their physical, mental, emotional, economic and spiritual health. We are particularly proud of your Show Me Heroes program, which helped more than 4,600 Veterans find employment.

The Guard continues to serve as an economic engine for communities across the state. This year, our financial impact was more than one billion dollars. The National Guard continues to shine as the best value possible for the defense of our nation from our enemies abroad and natural disasters at home.

Thank you for your continued leadership. Our Guardsmen, retirees and Family members truly appreciate everything you have done as our commander in chief.

Sincerely,

Stephen L. Danner

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Fiscal year 2013 was the third year for the Adjutant General's strategic plan. The strategic plan has codified the Adjutant General's vision, allowing the entire organization – every Soldier, Airmen, civilian, and Family member – to synchronize for synergistic gains. To date, the plan's impact has been nothing short of dramatic and the organization is postured for even greater future accomplishment.

The plan's first goal is to "Achieve a Culture of Readiness." Mission accomplished. Unit readiness has reached all-time high levels, far exceeding National Guard Bureau's recently raised targets. Assigned strength as a special precursor for unit readiness has risen from less than 100 percent to 106 percent for the Missouri Army National Guard and 105 percent for the Missouri Air National Guard. Other essential individual Soldier and Airman readiness measures – medical, military skills qualification, fitness compliance and administrative preparedness – all continue tracking along historic highs. As in years past, mobilizing units report to active service exceeding Army standards and expectations. Combined with the 131st Bomb Wing's nuclear mission certification, the Missouri National Guard is dispassionately demonstrating the National Guard is every bit as ready to serve successfully and with distinction as its active duty service brethren.

The plan's second goal: "Empower the Organization," is being realized daily. The organization's readiness success empirically demonstrates a decision-making, empowered force. Additionally, virtually every command climate survey expresses positive attitudes and exhibits trust in the chain of command. Techniques like formalizing objective assignment and promotion selection processes have been critical in successes to date. In traditional Show-Me state fashion, the Missouri National Guard is leading by example. Maj. Gen. Steve Danner is the chairman of the National Guard Association of the United States, and multiple senior leaders are serving on national committees where they share Missouri's visionary practices to help the entire Guard Nation.

The plan's third goal: "Optimize Responsible Resource Management" is a Missouri National Guard strength now more than ever. The Theater Aviation Sustainment Maintenance Group, universally renowned as the nation's best, brings tens of millions of dollars in federal funding to Missouri. This extremely high-tech facility and organization saves the Army hundreds of millions repairing and retrofitting aircraft. The Missouri National Guard has increased training site utilization more than 150 percent, providing quality training locally, freeing up millions from travel accounts for critically underfunded programs like security, resiliency, personnel administration and logistical support. Recent external inspections (e.g., Command Logistics Readiness Team) have commended the Missouri National Guard as national leaders.

The Missouri National Guard is on target to achieve Maj. Gen. Danner's vision for it as, "a recognized community and national leader in Soldier, Airmen, and Family readiness, possessing agile and effective units capable of responding to changing demands." Currently, the Adjutant General has the organization pushing forward, retooling weaknesses while consolidating and institutionalizing successes.

MISSION

The Missouri National Guard organizes, trains and prepares a Family and community-based force of ready Citizen-Soldiers and Airmen as units to defend and serve the people of Missouri and the United States of America.

VISION & VALUES

The Missouri National Guard is a recognized community and national leader in Soldier, Airman and Family readiness, possessing agile and effective units capable of responding to changing demands.

Soldier, Airman and Family-focused
Honor in all we do
Opportunities for all
Willing to learn

Meeet changing demands

Through its community-based organization, federal and state funding for Missouri National Guard (ARNG/ANG) activities provides an economic benefit to communities throughout Missouri as the money received is turned over several times in every segment of the state economy.

This unique presence is financially supported through a mixture of federal and state funding. Economic benefits occur in the form of military and civilian pay and allowances, the purchase of goods and services, and through capital investments in military construction projects. In deriving the economic impact data for FY13, financial information was collected from the official accounting records of the Missouri Army and Air National Guard. The total economic impact figure was accelerated by 1.70 times to reflect the National Guard Bureau economic money-multiplier effect of dollars in action throughout Missouri communities.

STATE EMERGENCY MISSIONS

MISSION

The Missouri National Guard's state mission is to support the Governor by providing trained personnel and equipment to protect life and critical infrastructure, and to maintain peace, order and public safety.

STATE EMERGENCY MISSIONS AND EXERCISES

Exercise Vigilant Guard: The Missouri National Guard participated in the Vigilant Guard exercise from November 3 – 9, 2012, with Guardsmen from seven states and multiple state and local agencies. Nearly every Missouri unit participated in the exercise, which simulated a New Madrid Seismic Zone earthquake. The exercise provided the Guard with an opportunity to improve cooperation and operational relationships with civil authorities and federal military partners.

Operation Show Me Spring Tide: The Missouri National Guard deployed 118 Soldiers and Airmen to respond to flooding in Clarkesville and Dutchtown along the Mississippi River from April 19-27. Guardsmen worked around the clock with local communities filling sandbags, constructing and monitoring levees, and operating water pumps.

Operation Show Me Summer Deluge: The Missouri National Guard deployed 50 military police and 20 engineers to assist local civil authorities in protecting lives and property threatened by flash floods in areas of southern Missouri impacted by flooding from recent heavy rain. Soldiers worked alongside other state agencies including the Missouri Highway Patrol and supported civil authorities in Laclede, Miller, Phelps, and Pulaski counties from August 8-10, 2013.

Colorado Flood Support: The Missouri National Guard deployed a team of three engineers to Colorado from September 18-21, 2013. As subject matter experts in their field, the engineers assisted in conducting damage assessments of more than 1,000 miles of highways and more than 150 bridges degraded by heavy flooding.

STATE OF THE MISSOURI NATIONAL GUARD

AIR NATIONAL GUARD

The Missouri Air National Guard achieved 104.89 percent strength with 2,401 Airmen.

ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

The Missouri Army National Guard achieved 106 percent strength with 9,173 Soldiers.

ORGANIZATION

The Missouri National Guard provides trained, ready forces to the Governor and President. Readiness is the formation's cornerstone. Having achieved all-time highs, Missouri is a national leader in individual and unit readiness. Individual Soldiers and Airmen must be proficient leaders who are disciplined, duty-qualified, medically and administratively ready, professionally developed, and resilient. Units respond when called, empirically exceeding standards and expectations.

EQUIPMENT

The Missouri National Guard is currently equipped at 83 percent critical dual use - state and federal -equipment.

Missouri continues to receive equipment at record levels, including Apache Longbow helicopters, light and medium trucks, Blue Force Tracker, weapons, and navigation and night vision devices. The Command Logistics Review Team rated Missouri a top state, giving noteworthy ratings in the Command Supply Discipline Program, mobilization logistics and unit supply, ammunition and Hazmat management.

The Missouri National Guard utilized its equipment significantly during pre-mobilization, annual trainings, and state emergency response operations.

OPERATIONAL FORCES

The Missouri National Guard continues to lean forward and prepare Soldiers, Airmen and units for deployment around the world, extending the Guard's capabilities and initiatives to protect Missouri and the nation.

In Fiscal Year 2013, Missouri National Guardsmen deployed to support aviation, engineering, public affairs, and medical missions, among others. The 35th Combat Aviation Brigade completed its mission supporting Operation Enduring Freedom – Kuwait where it provided theater command and control to all aviation assets. Subordinate units including the 935th Aviation Support Battalion, Det. 3, Company F, 1-169th Aviation Regiment (Medevac), and 1-135th Aviation Regiment (Attack) also deployed overseas to the Kuwait mission and combat operations in Afghanistan. Other deployed aviation assets include the 1107th Aviation Group (Theater Aviation Sustainment Maintenance) and Det. 40, Operational Support Airlift Command also deployed to theater.

The 35th Engineer Brigade deployed two units to support Operation Enduring Freedom in Afghanistan. These were the 1138th

Engineer Company (Sapper), and the 1438th Engineer Company (Multi-Role Bridge), which performed route clearance and bridge support operations, respectively. The Sixth Agribusiness Development Team was also deployed to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom, where its Soldiers and Airmen facilitated agricultural reconstruction and development in the Nangarhar Province.

70th Troop Command is tasked as the FEMA Region VII Homeland Response Force (HRF), one of only 10 HRFs nationwide. While capable as an all-hazards response force, the unit is designed to respond to Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear incidents. When directed by proper authority and upon consent of the Governor, the Homeland Response Force alerts, assembles, and deploys within 6-12 hours and conducts command and control, security, search and rescue/search and extraction, decontamination, and medical triage as needed to save lives and mitigate human suffering. Troop Command worked diligently to achieve HRF validation by the Secretary of Defense in 2012, and continues to work hard ensuring it will be re-validated in March 2015.

PLANNING AND PREPAREDNESS

The Missouri National Guard continues to expand emergency response planning, training and engagement efforts with civil authorities. Interagency coordination and planning continue to take place to improve emergency response efficiency and effectiveness.

The Guard teamed with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and Missouri State Emergency Management Agency to develop a comprehensive New Madrid Seismic Zone earthquake response plan spanning all emergency support functions.

Seventy-four Missouri National Guardsmen were trained as liaison officers over the past 12 months. The liaison officers coordinate with and inform emergency management directors of Missouri National Guard response capabilities and limitations, increasing the overall efficiency of the response.

The Missouri National Guard continues to ensure key command and staff personnel are fully trained in the National Incident Management System and Defense Support to Civil Authorities.

The state of Missouri recently participated in exercise Cyber Shield 2013 with 39 other states and territories. Cyber Shield 2013 was a defensively-focused unclassified cyber exercise that developed, trained, and evaluated Army and Air National Guard cyber-capable forces, threat analysis teams, and operation centers in order to prepare them for the cyber threats of today and tomorrow.

The Missouri National Guard is currently involved in planning and preparation to participate in the Central U.S. Earthquake Consortium Capstone Exercise. The exercise will focus on Defense Support to Civil Authorities for a New Madrid Seismic zone catastrophic earthquake. It is designed to strengthen partnerships between local, state, and federal governments, while engaging public and private sector entities in planning response and recovery.

Today and into the future, the Missouri National Guard will continue to participate in numerous workshops, conferences and table-top activities and address capability gaps in reference to a response to a catastrophic event.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

MISSOURI RESERVE FORCE

The Missouri National Guard is helping Gov. Jay Nixon build a volunteer force, the Missouri Reserve Force. Under Missouri law, Maj. Gen. Steve Danner, the Adjutant General, has established the Missouri Reserve Force to complement the National Guard in its mission to assist civil authorities in emergencies and natural disasters, to assist the National Guard in carrying out its mission to recruit, train, and prepare National Guard Soldiers and Airmen to deploy in service to the U.S. and to assist Family members at home during deployments. Every member is a true volunteer who serves without pay and will bear their own expense for service, travel, uniforms and incidentals. The initial recruitment for Missouri Reserve Military Force volunteers comes from Missouri Army and Air National Guard retirees. Their experience and knowledge of emergency and disaster operations in support of civil authorities are valuable assets to the state.

The Missouri Reserve Force is now beginning to recruit Veterans of all services and other professionally-licensed personnel including, but not limited to, doctors, dentists, attorneys and engineers. It is also now recruiting those with backgrounds in counseling, amateur radio operations, law enforcement, firefighting and emergency response, as well as farmers, ranchers, and National Incident Management System emergency management-qualified citizens. Since this is a truly civilian-skills oriented reserve force, weapons training or use of arms are not part of the Missouri Reserve Force mission.

Membership in the Force may not include any person serving in the active duty, National Guard or Army Reserve, to include Ready Reserve and Standby Reserve. Retired Reserve members may volunteer for the Force.

Recently, the Missouri Reserve Force has focused personnel training as liaison officers to supplement the National Guard Soldiers who are the Missouri National Guard's bridge to local cities, towns and county governments.

Missouri Reserve Force applicants and members must self-certify that they are able-bodied citizens and capable of performing moderate physical activity including sandbagging, chain saw operation, debris removal, and search and rescue walking. Personnel in the professional and Partners in Care categories must self-certify they are capable of performing their profession.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer member of the Missouri Reserve Force please contact the Office of the Adjutant General at 573-638-9633 or e-mail: ngmo.mrf@ng.army.mil.

FAMILY RESILIENCY CENTER

The Missouri National Guard Foundation is working with private partners to build a new Family Resiliency Center at its headquarters at Ike Skelton Training Site in Jefferson City. The Center will provide a cornerstone for programs designed to combat the military service-related challenges that face Guardsmen and their Families.

The Missouri National Guard Foundation has received more than $600,000 in donations from organizations, businesses and individuals. Generous contributions have been made by the Veterans United and World Wide Technology foundations, Ameren-Missouri, and Kansas City-based J.E. Dunn Construction, to name a few. As important are the countless individuals who have donated through the federal and state combined charitable campaigns, shared proceeds from use of the Guard Credit Card, and personal donations.

There has been a marked increase in deployments since Sept. 11, 2001. Accordingly, there has been an increase in the need for services to address the stress that comes with adjustment from active duty to civilian life often experienced by Guard members and their Families. The Foundation's top priority is to meet the increasing need to support those who do serve and have served in the Missouri National Guard and the other armed forces branches and their Families. Its starting point is construction of the Center, because no federal or state funding is available for such a facility.

This Center will be the heart of the Pillars of Resiliency, a focal point for spiritual well-being, Family counseling and embedded behavioral health care. With offices, screening rooms, and counseling rooms to accommodate individuals and groups, the Center will support an array of services. Programs will help Guardsmen improve mental health, deal with grief, address stress-related matters, advance suicide awareness, and reunite with Family.

The Center will overlook the Missouri River from the bluffs of the Guard's headquarters in Jefferson City. It will include a non-denominational chapel area available for members of the armed services, Veterans, and their Families, to host funerals, memorial services, weddings and other ceremonies.

The Missouri National Guard Foundation continues to raise funds in support of the Center. For detailed information about the Resiliency Center, please visit www.MONGF.org.

COUNCIL OF GOVERNORS AND NATIONAL GOVERNORS ASSOCIATION

The Missouri National Guard's Commander in Chief, Gov. Jay Nixon, continues to play a crucial national leadership role for the National Guard.

In 2013, Gov. Nixon was named chair of the National Governors Association Homeland Security and Public Safety Committee by association chair, Oklahoma Gov. Mary Fallin, and Vice Chair Colorado Gov. John Hickenlooper.

The Homeland Security and Public Safety Committee has jurisdiction within the Association over homeland security, the National Guard and homeland defense, criminal justice and public safety and veterans affairs. Members of the committee ensure that the Governors' views are represented in the shaping of federal policy.

Gov. Nixon is also one of only 10 Governors to sit on the President's Council of Governors. The council's mission is to strengthen the partnership between the federal and state government and enhance the protection of the homeland. The President selects Governors for the council with input from Governors and Governors associations to serve two-year terms. The council reviews matters involving the National Guard, homeland defense, civil support, synchronization and integration of state and federal military activities in the US and other matters related to the council's charter.

- Shortly after arriving in Afghanistan in August, the 1438th Engineer Company constructed the largest bridge in Operation Enduring Freedom XIII history, which it named the Lakah Tizah Messerli Bridge in honor of Maj. Kelly Messerli, a previous 1438th commander who died of cancer in 2013.
- In late April, the 1140th Engineer Battalion performed State Emergency Duty as part of operation "Show-Me Spring Tide" in response to rising Mississippi flood waters that threatened the small Southeast Missouri community of Dutchtown. In August, Headquarters Company, 35th Engineer Brigade was called into action during Operation Summer Deluge in response to flash flooding in Pemiscott, Laclede, and Phelps counties.
- 203rd and 1140th Engineer Battalion units conducted horizontal and vertical troop projects at Missouri Training Sites as part of their annual training exercises; highlighted by a 144' culvert emplaced at the Macon Training Site by the 294th, 117th and 276th Engineer Companies.
- The brigade built on the contingency support brigade relationship with Army Southern Command by participating in Integrated Advance Exercise 2013, which exercised migrant personnel management in response to a significant event. Members of the 235th Design Management team performed survey and design missions in preparation for migrant relief efforts in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.
- The 35th Engineer Brigade continued planning to support missions home and abroad with mobilization preparation of the 276th Engineer Company (Vertical) and the 220th Engineer Company (Horizontal), and with participation in Vigilant Guard. The brigade is conducting planning operations to prepare to assume mission command of engineer construction efforts in Guatemala in 2014.

HIGHLIGHTS

• The 110th Maneuver Enhancement Brigade had several change of command ceremonies this year including the change of the brigade commander from Col. William Ward to Col. John M. Oberkirsch.

• During Vigilant Guard 2013, the 311th managed and transported supplies to units throughout the state, the 1-129th Field Artillery processed incoming units to ensure accountability and re-supply, and brigade staff tracked and assisted in information management between the field and state with the assistance of the 135th Signal Company, which provided communication equipment.

• In June, the 1-138th Infantry completed its first-ever joint live fire between battalion mortars and snipers during annual training. The snipers used new night vision scopes that were tested effective at 900 meters and effectively engaged targets at more than 1300 meters.

• The 1-129th Field Artillery conducted multiple field exercises at Fort Riley with focused training on specific Artillery skills and tasks including 37 separate occupations while shooting 1919 artillery rounds. Throughout training the 129th displayed ability to provide lethal fires with deadly accuracy in showcasing the Thunder Battalion's extraordinary ability to accomplish the mission by putting timely steel on target.

• During annual training the 110th conducted Standardized Integrated Command Post System Event III.

• The 135th Signal Company changed commanders February 2013 as Capt. Avinash Ferrao took command from Capt. Benjamin Bruening. During the company's annual training at Camp Crowder, its Soldiers provided secure and non-secure voice and data links through satellite connectivity for the 110th.

• During the 311th Brigade Support Battalion's second annual training period, the battalion deployed the full complement of modernized equipment and digital communications systems to Camp Crowder to provide a support area where subordinate units conducted logistical activities while also taking needed time to focus on improving individual Soldier fitness, recognizing achievements, and welcoming new noncommissioned officers into the NCO Corps.

• The 548th Trans Co held a ceremony to present the unit with the Meritorious Unit Citation for their service in Afghanistan in 2011-2012.

HIGHLIGHTS

• Brigade Headquarters and Headquarters Company deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom – Kuwait, providing support to 35th Combat Aviation Brigade Task Force Santa Fe. The task force was key in strengthening strategic partnerships with Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and the United Arab Emirates.

• The 35th ensured US Army Central's ability to mobilize the Deployable Aviation Task Force, execute aviation contingency operations plans, conduct joint and partnership operations and execute air movement operations in theater.

• The 35th supported a combined total of 11,000 flight hours, which supported vital theater missions, the inter theater movement of 2,600 passengers and 160,000 lbs of cargo. The 35th supported more than 300 hours tied to partnership missions and operations. Several Army aviation firsts occurred and world class aviation support was provided throughout the Joint Security Area-Georgia's area of operations. The unit returned to Missouri in April 2013.

• The 935th Aviation Support Battalion deployed 277 Soldiers from four companies from Missouri, Illinois and South Dakota to support Operation Enduring Freedom-Kuwait. Its mission was to support the 35th and other coalition forces logistically. The battalion focused on aviation and vehicle maintenance, medical operations, transportation, ammunition, distribution and communication operations. The unit returned to Fort Hood, Texas, in April 2013.

• The 935th's rear detachment, 226 Soldiers, ensured Soldiers remained vigilant and prepared for contingency operations either state side or overseas, completing weapons qualification, improving individual Soldier readiness, and reducing the maintenance backlog to single digits. The rear also supported the forward unit with administrative actions that could not be performed from an austere environment.

• After conducting pre-mobilization training in Boise, Idaho, and Fort Hood, Texas, the 1-135th Aviation Battalion deployed to Afghanistan. In July, they were featured on "This One's For You" at the Cardinals game.

MISSION

The 35th Combat Aviation Brigade deploys to an area of responsibility to provide command, control, staff planning and supervision of combat aviation brigade operations. The brigade's units fly a combination of AH-64D Apache attack helicopters, OH-58 Kiowa observation helicopters and UH-60 Black Hawk utility helicopters. It also has a detachment of two C-23 Sherpa cargo airplanes and a C-12 transport airplane. The brigade's units are capable of performing unit, intermediate and depot-level aviation maintenance. Missouri is one of only five locations in the U.S. with the capability to perform depot-level aviation maintenance.

1107TH AVIATION GROUP

SPRINGFIELD

MISSION

The 1107th Aviation Group supports the Missouri National Guard by way of its mission to provide a fixed-base theater of operations dedicated to sustainment/depot capability maintenance of rotary-wing aircraft. One of the largest Missouri Guard commands, the 485-member group supports a headquarters division and subordinate companies A and B, all based in Springfield.

ORGANIZATION

Col. David G. Dippold
Command Sgt. Maj. Edward J. Lambeth

1107th Aviation Group

Springfield

- Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment - Springfield
- Company A - Springfield
- Company B - Springfield

HIGHLIGHTS

- In late 2012, a change of command was conducted between outgoing-commander Col. William J. Thomas and Col. David G. Dippold. Col. Dippold was previously assigned to Joint Force Headquarters as the state Army aviation officer, and worked with Command Sgt. Maj. Jack Lambeth to deploy the aviation depot repair team to southwest Asia in November 2013.
- The upcoming deployment will be split between Afghanistan and Kuwait theaters. The deployed Theater Aviation Maintenance Program (TAMP) mission includes aviation depot (-) repair, retrograde and aviation logistical theater support. The unit will mobilize from Ft. Hood, Texas.
- In March 2013, the 1107th Aviation Group fielded three teams participating in the Adjutant General's Marksmanship Match, placing second and fourth. Nine of the Adjutant General's top 20 shooters were also from the 1107th.
- The 1107th Aviation Group participated in the Modern Army Combatives V regional match and the Winston P. Wilson National matches. Staff Sgt. Joseph Salcido and Staff Sgt. Andrew Pipkin, of the 1107th, were on a four-Soldier team that took first place at the MAC V, and Staff Sgt. Salcido was on the Missouri team that took third place at the national match, which drew more than 335 competitors from all 50 states, Puerto Rico and Guam.
- The 1107th continues to take full advantage of the training opportunities at the Missouri National Guard's Theater Aviation Sustainment Maintenance Group Shop. This state of the art campus is continually growing its capacity to provide regional aviation repair support operations on UH-60 Black Hawk, AH-64 Apache and CH-47 Chinook aircraft.

ORGANIZATION

Col. (P) William A. Ward
Command Sgt. Maj. Philip C. Butler

35th Infantry Division Headquarters, Headquarters Battalion

Lexington

- Headquarters and Headquarters Company - Lexington
- Company B - St. Joseph/Jefferson Barracks
- Company C - St. Joseph
- Det. 1, Company A - St. Joseph
- Det. 3, Company B - Jefferson Barracks

HIGHLIGHTS

• In preparation for Ulchi Focus Guardian, the division conducted an internal communication exercise, "Santa Fe Ex," in April. Communication assets and the division G-6 personnel are part of Company C, of the Headquarters and Headquarters Battalion, and support the division headquarters. Santa Fe Ex was a success, and identified areas of improvement to better prepare the division to support real-world missions and/or more complex exercises.

• The 35th Infantry Division of Missouri participated in the two-week Ulchi Focus Guardian, under 1st Army, June 15-30 August. 35th Infantry Division provided liaison officers between Korea's 1st Army and 35th Infantry Division staff, while providing direct mission support to 1st Army during the exercise. This exercise enabled the division staff to utilize, exercise, and validate tactical operation procedures developed less than a year ago.

• Headquarters and Headquarters Battalion was tasked to support Kosovo Force-18 beginning in December 2013. Units have focused on comprehensive unit-level fitness throughout the year to ensure Soldiers are prepared.

• Units within the division participated in a number of specific training events leading to a greater enhancement of individual soldier and team knowledge. Effects of this training were capitalized upon during annual training in August 2013.

• Maj. Gen. John E. Davoren relinquished command of the 35th Infantry Division, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to incoming commanding general, Brig. Gen. Michael D. Navrkal.

MISSION

The 35th Infantry Division is assigned in three states - Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. The 35th Infantry Division (MO) specifically provides mission command and control of all divisional Soldiers from within the Missouri Army National Guard. The 35th Infantry Division trains and prepares a Family and community based force of Citizen-Soldiers to defend and serve the United States of America.

SPECIALIZED UNITS AND PROGRAMS

Center for Sustainment of Trauma and Readiness Skills - C-STARS

The Center for Sustainment of Trauma and Readiness Skills - better known as C-STARS - is designed to immerse Air Force doctors, nurses and technicians in civilian level-one trauma centers for the purpose of wartime clinical currency. Human patient simulation is an important adjunct to ensure all key readiness skills are completed.

- The St. Louis program has trained more than 2,000 doctors, nurses and medics, completing 100 percent of their wartime readiness skills in support of the Air Expeditionary Forces and disaster response.

- The program is recognized as the premier Air Force training site for trauma sustainment training with the primary focus on providing a hands-on, patient care experience supplemented by didactic lectures and world-class human patient simulation.

- C-STARS has the only site in the Air Force with a pediatric surgeon and pediatric nurse to maximize hands-on pediatric patient care.

- Air National Guard Training allocations have been prioritized for the Civil Support Team and Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear Enhanced Response Force and Homeland Response Force teams for the Air National Guard.

Region VII Homeland Response Force

The Missouri National Guard is one of 10 National Guard organizations from across the nation to implement the new Homeland Response Force, or, HRF. The Missouri HRF covers FEMA Region VII.

The HRF responds to natural or man-made chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear events beyond the capability of civil authorities. Under Defense Department guidelines, each HRF consists of 577 Army and Air Guardsmen with expertise in mass-casualty disaster response.

After its external evaluation in March 2012, the Region VII HRF focused on continued individual and collective training to hone skills and increase education and awareness. Elements of the HRF took part in Vigilant Guard 2012, where the skills of its task force were put to the test. This exercise led to an increase of cohesiveness within the element.

The HRF performs mission command of multiple Civil Support Teams and CBRN Enhanced Response Force Packages, security forces to facilitate control in a chaotic CBRN environment, and additional full-time personnel to enhance planning, coordination and facilitation of rapid response.

State Partnership Program

The State Partnership Program is a Department of Defense tool to promote regional stability and cooperation. Leaders of the National Guard and Army Reserve are looking to theater security cooperation missions as a way to keep their forces ready, even as demand for boots on the ground supporting overseas contingency operations declines after more than a decade of war.

The Missouri National Guard and Panama formally established a state partnership in 1996. The Missouri Guard primarily uses subject matter expert exchanges to encourage economic development, foster democracy and strengthen partnerships between civil, military and non-governmental agencies. Currently, subject matter expert exchange engagement has led to three formal Missouri – Panama civilian agency continuing cooperation agreements.

In September 2008, Kansas City's Children's Mercy Hospital established an agreement with Panama City's Children's Hospital.

In November 2009, the State of Missouri Department of Higher Education established an agreement with Panama's National Council of the Institute for the Formation and Betterment of Human Resources.

In August 2010, the Missouri National Guard began facilitating the relationship between Panama International Rotary Club and Missouri Rotary District #6080 that resulted in a cooperative project in fiscal year 2012. To

- 3rd Annual State Partnership Program Planning Meeting

tional highly technical and specialized equipment and facilities. TASMGs are one of the best examples of National Guard resource management and ingenuity.

The Department of Defense funds Missouri's TASMG tens of millions, but receives hundreds of millions in cost savings. Aircraft are serviced, repaired, and retrofitted to "like new" standards; parts are fabricated and sometimes designed and improved; all at a small fraction of the cost.

MISSOURI VETERANS RECOGNITION PROGRAM

The Missouri Veterans Recognition Program traces its roots to an April 23, 1919 Act of the Missouri General Assembly. More recently, in 2000, the World War II award was created. It was followed by a medal to honor Veterans who participated in the D-Day invasion of Europe from June 6-Sept. 30, 1944. The award is a replica of the 50th Anniversary Jubilee of Liberty Medal, which was originally produced by the French government and awarded during their Jubilee Celebration in 1994.

The program provides assistance to survivors of all military members regardless of branch, duty status, or component for as long as the assistance is needed and wanted. Coordinators make contact with survivors in their respective geographical area of responsibility annually to verify contact information and check on their needs and changes in their life.

The program works closely with the State Casualty Assistance Team to maintain continuity and offer assistance to military retiree survivors. Missouri works with two assigned active duty casualty assistance centers at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. For more information, call 573-638-9500, ext 7784, or 417-868-6006.

Warrior and Family Resilience

Resilience is the ability to overcome adversity and experience post-traumatic growth. It focuses on the 12 resilience skill-sets and targets the six core competencies of self-awareness, self-regulation, optimism, mental agility, strengths of character, and connection. Once trained, Master Resilience Trainers provide a powerful resource to the unit commander to help identify areas of unit readiness concerns using the Unit Risk Inventory Survey and provide targeted, proactive prevention training. For more information, contact the program coordinator at 573-638-9500, ext 7727.

The Suicide Prevention Program offers unit and individual training in Applied Suicide Intervention Skills (ASIST) and Ask-Care-Escort Suicide Intervention (ACE-SI). The ASIST Training is a two-day workshop preparing first-line leaders to recognize at-risk individuals and provide intervention skills to prevent risk of suicidal thoughts that may become suicidal behaviors. The ACE-SI provides additional suicide intervention training beyond the annual ACE requirement for junior leaders and first-line supervisors. For additional information, contact the program manager at 573-638-9602.

Sexual harassment and assault violate everything the Missouri National Guard stands for including Army Values and Warrior Ethos. Questions can be directed to the State Employment Assistance Office at 573-638-9538.

The Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR) promotes cooperation and understanding between reservists and their civilian employers and to assist in the resolution of conflicts arising from an employee's military commitment. Missouri's state office works with the Hero2Hired program and local chambers of commerce to help service members become more marketable for either job placement or advancement within the workforce. The program conducts briefings for service members and their Families, educates employers through events such as Breakfast with the Boss and Boss Lifts, and participates in numerous local events, conferences and parades.

Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program

The Department of Defense's Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program provides service members and their supporters with resources, outreach opportunities, reintegration tools, communication skills, and benefit information throughout each phase of their deployment cycle, regardless of their service affiliation.

This joint program provides direct access to numerous Department of Defense, Veteran, and state program and resource points of contacts to ease the process of finding and receiving entitlements for service members and their supporters. The Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program is designed to function as a one-stop-shop for benefit and resource information during the deployment cycle.

Missouri National Guard Chaplains, both Army and Air, serve Soldiers, Airmen and their Families with caring, confidential, supportive and practical encouragement. Missouri Chaplains fulfill three timeless roles: "Nurture the living, Care for Casualties, and Honor the Fallen." Religious Freedom is the First Amendment right of every citizen, including Citizen-Soldiers and Airmen of the Missouri National Guard. Chaplains ensure that one's spirituality is respected and never used as a reason to deny someone the opportunity to serve their country and community. Chaplains are assigned to units at battalion-level, wing, or above, and any Soldier or Airman can request chaplain support through their chain of command for any issue at any time. For assistance, please contact your chain of command or 573-638-9613.
